Points to note

The lens cover cannot block the projection light for too long. We may take a break while using the projector, but we don't want to turn off the projector. If we keep the projector on during this period, it will feel very awkward, so we often use a lens cover to block it, but we need to One thing to note is not to use the lens cover for a long time, otherwise the heat of the projected light will be blocked by the lens. If it is too long, it will inevitably cause high temperature damage to the lens and optical machine.
